End of summer 2010 news

UKRAINE

We are grateful for your support and prayers! Our travel and teaching in Ukraine had certain tense events but it really was so good.
A visible victory in Jesus!

We introduced The Ezekiel Option in the Russian language. The book, a NY Times best seller, introduces the reader to the future Biblical war of Gog and Magog in Ezekiel 38 - 39.

The Ezekiel Option

WOW! In nine days we spoke in 15 churches or pastors meetings, met with 100 pastors, and taught over 1,600 people---in four cities.

People have a deep desire to hear the prophetic Word from the Old Testament, question Len because he is a Jewish believer in Jesus, and understand current news through the eyes of Scripture.

Pastors and evangelical leaders gave testimonies of The Ezekiel Option as helpful for use in Bible studies and evangelism. Many want to read it---we distributed over 200 books.

Pastors were also cautious because some parts of Ukraine have become more pro-Putin and pro-Russian. That caution is affecting churches. We were warned to avoid references to Russia while we were in Kiev---because pro-Soviet infiltrators could be sitting in the audience while we taught the Ezekiel prophecy that Russia and Iran will form an alliance to attack Israel.

Later, a secret police agent was observed at one of our meetings! However, in some other cities we were urged to be completely open in teaching. Not only did we teach but we were taught past history and current events in Ukraine.

Friends took us to stand in the very footprints, at the edge of the Babi Yar ravine, near Kiev--where 34,000 Jewish people suffered the worst Nazi massacre.

Later, at a church service, we saw many men and women willingly confess and repent from their own personal antisemitism.

In another city a pastor took us to his church soup kitchen--they feed hundreds with bread, borscht, and the gospel!

Thank you all for your prayers for the people of Ukraine.

National AIA Convention

Did you know there is a Prayer Breakfast at the national convention of the American Institute of Architects (AIA)?

Len has frequently presented the work of Ministry Architecture Inc. We encourage architects to use their unique professional skills as a charitable service to the world's needy.

This year God led two young exhibitors from India to the breakfast---neither they nor we expected this. However, afterward, they remarked at their surprise and awe to see the deep faith of many famous architects who prayed humbly to God---they had never seen anything like that.

Fund Raising with Joel Rosenberg

Thanks for the love of many who joined us in July in Denver.

More than 1,000 came to Calvary Chapel South Denver, and, to a private home in Denver, to hear Joel's latest news and insights about the Middle-East.

It was a good talk---informative, inspiring, and humorous--his usual style.

Over $40,000 was generously given in contributions.

We will carefully use these gifts for the Lord's work.

Save the date August 4, 2011 for the next Joel Rosenberg event in the Denver area.
Again, it will take place at Calvary South Denver.

AFRICA

2011 may become our year in Africa.

Two great ministries have invited us to be their architect and planner.

1) The born-again President of BURUNDI has given a very large tract of land for an orphanage community. This will include a church, school, cluster housing for the children, staff housing, crafts center, infrastructure, and agricultural fields for self-sufficiency--a model for the loving care of orphans!

2) The Western Africa Theological Seminary (WATS) in Lagos, NIGERIA, has asked us to design new buildings for their expansion: classrooms, dormitories, and offices---thus meeting the big need in Nigeria for trained evangelical pastors, teachers, and missionaries!

HAITI

- Since the earthquake, countless homeless children have wandered across the HAITI island. Many have walked from Port-Au-Prince and are now in the north around the city of Cap Haitian.
- Local churches are caring for them.
- USA churches in Maine and in Kansas, with alot of experience in northern Haiti, have teamed with Pastor Payot Jacques, the dynamic pastor of the Caracol Baptist Church. They are providing shelter, care, hope, and a future for 400 children.
- They have the land. They have some money. Now, they need a master plan and practical designs that fit the site and can be built by local people with local materials.
- We will go there in November to assess the site and surroundings, meet and pray with the leaders, and develop a realistic plan for the future "Strong Tower Orphanage".
- Please pray for God's provision in all these matters--remember: "...with God nothing is impossible".
- Chaos and confusion interferes with effective distribution of public aid money.
- However, this is a private project that will go forward.

MEXICO

The El Monte Bible College, south of Mexico City, just received a gift: $100,000!

Now, their needed cabins and classrooms can be added. 18 volunteers are actively in the construction today.

We have designed and planned with their missions organization, WEC, for 6 years.

Missionary pastor Ed Somerville and his international colleagues have been serving and sending prepared Mexican missionaries for ministry in the Middle East.

KENYA

On the shores of Lake Victoria YWAM is building a camp. It is a multipurpose campus for loving, teaching, and giving in the Name of Christ. Most of the cabins are finished and occupied.

Their website is: missionwild.org

Hope, food, medicine, and the gospel is being given to young people with no jobs, widows with no skills, and to people with AIDS.

BULLETIN !!!

Our volunteer surveyor, Larry Bucar, just returned from one month at the Bethesda Hospital in BORNEO.

He surveyed the topography, boundaries, and buildings--and the LORD blessed him in wonderful ways.

This will enable our infrastructure engineering to continue--and this will result in proper waste treatment and a healthier environment at the hospital, nursing school, and housing.

Details in the next letter.
